VALUABLE Timber Lands And Mill Property FOR SALE.

THE subscriber, desirous of disposing of all his interest in Timber Lands and mills, will sell on favorable terms the following:

One-Half Township No. 5, Range 4, Oxford County.

The whole township contains twenty-six thousand (26,000) acres; is heavily timbered with spruce, estimated at sixty to eighty millions, all of which stands within near and easy hauling distance of the Magalloway river or its branches, which runs through the township, or Parmachena Lake, which is embraced within its limits.

Also 16,000 Acres of Land in the Town of Byron, Oxford Co., well covered with large Spruce timber. Swift river and its branches run through these lands and empty into the Androscoggin below Rumford Falls.

Also 1100 Acres Timber and Wood Land in Town of Gorham, N. H., two miles above the Alpine House, on the line of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and the banks of the Androscoggin river. There is a large quantity of wood on these lots which, from its proximity to the Railroad, is steadily increasing in value.

Also 2500 Acres Lands in the Towns of Albany and Stoneham, near the village of North Waterford, Oxford County. This land is covered with thrifty sapling Pine timber, standing near Crooked river, which runs through the tract. Logs put into Crooked river can be run to Saccarappa, or by hauling four to five miles they can be put into the Saco. There is a good mill privilege, with a single saw mill on the tract; distance to the canal, at Harrison, ten miles; to the railroad at South Paris, twelve miles. The land is valuable for settling purposes after being cleared of timber.

Also 435 Shares of Stock in the Lewiston Steam Mill Company, the whole capital stock being represented by 827 shares. The property of the company consists of a Steam Saw Mill, capable of manufacturing five million feet of long lumber, with a proportionate amount of clapboards, shingles and laths. About fifteen acres land in the city of Lewiston, well located for building purposes, and thirty thousand acres of timber land, well located on the Androscoggin river and its branches, from which but a small quantity of the timber has been cut. JOHN LYNCH, Or, LYNCH, BARKER & CO. Portland, Aug. 11, 1869.

For Rent! OFFICE on Broad Street, over China Tea Store. Enquire at D. M. Howard's office, of WEBSTER TREAT. Bangor, May 12th, 1870.

Frost, Veazie.

Having a good knowledge of machines, I have made a thorough examination of all the machines now offered to the public, and unhesitatingly decide in favor of the Weed Sewing Machine. I think its simplicity of construction, ease of management, adaptation to every variety of family sewing, beauty, strength and durability of the seam, and rapidity of motion, combine to render it the best machine for family use. J. W. STRANGE.

What we claim It will Do. That it will execute every possible variety of work such as Hemming, Tucking, Felling, Binding, Quilting, Cording, Braiding, Hem-stitching, Binding, Gathering and Sewing on at the same time, &c., with the utmost precision and beauty, Stitching with either Silk, Cotton, or Linen Thread, with equal facility. We mention a few of its points of excellence: In its being more readily adjusted. In its liability to get out of order. In its using both upper and under thread alike. In its large balance wheel and its being guarded to protect the Dress. In its having the best Hemmer and Feller combined. [illegible]

A ROYAL LETTER WRITER.

The Madras (India) Mail prints a letter from Prince Alfred, the "Sailor Duke," second son of Queen Victoria, to his elder brother, the Prince of Wales. We make the following extracts, premising that "Alexandra" is the future Queen of England, and "Dagmar," her sister, wife of the Czarwitch of Russia:

"GOVERNMENT HOUSE, MADRAS, March 20, 1870.

"My Dear Bertie:—To-morrow I am returning to the Galatea. I have been more than three months in India, and have seen a very large number of towns and millions of people. Chamberlain has regularly sent you the newspapers containing descriptions of how I have been treated, and he is now making up for me a very pretty book of photo's, which I have asked Lady Napier to send to Windsor by the first opportunity. I am very tired indeed of all these festivities, and shall be glad to be in my own quiet snuggery afloat. Truly these Indians are stunning fellows, and I can imagine that had you and Alexandra come out as Argyll suggested, you would have returned to Marlborough House sun-burnt and laden with all kinds of souvenirs. He treated me well without worrying me with over-much attention, and I shall be so glad if something is done for him.

"Here, to tell the truth, I am rather bored by her lady-ship coming the mother over me. She is very chatty, and civil, and all that, but I would like her better if she would leave me a little more alone. But she says the Queen commended me to her maternal care, and maternal care have I had, sure enough. La Mère does not quite understand these things, but you do, and if you casually remind her that I am now full-fledged, rising six, and twenty, and not in need of leading strings, I shall be much obliged. Napier himself is a jolly fellow.

"Most of the fellows I meet here seem worth knowing. They don't cadge up to me, and that is what I like in a man. One fellow, a sort of secretary, or something, gives himself great airs and governs the Governor—whose face betokens anything for a quiet life in his own house. Then there's a droll fellow irreverently called 'bob' a rather big officer, who is full of good stories, plays and seasoned. There are half-a-dozen aides-de-camp as good and as pleasant fellows as I have met anywhere. One little fellow is a cocked hat is, indeed, a wonderful sight. [illegible] son is a hearty kind of youth, somewhat [illegible] friend Blandford. And this reminds me [illegible] of those letters of yours in Daily M[illegible] I was dreadfully vexed at seeing them in [illegible] and I swore a trifle, you may depend, when I read the articles in the London papers about them. Confound it, can't those papers find something else to do than bully [illegible] trifles? People think, no [illegible] a fine thing to be a prince [illegible] tently, when I see how we [illegible] red at and misunderstood on [illegible] occasion. Never mind, dear [illegible] people will soon forget all [illegible] ed notes, or at least take [illegible] proper worth. The Baron [illegible] is vicious, and would be [illegible] itten to? [illegible] wonderfully well treated by [illegible] They have spent heaps of [illegible] ered addresses upon me, and [illegible] replied to. The latter so well [illegible] seems pleased. Chamberlain [illegible] apital men and have been [illegible] don't know what I should [illegible] at them, for the English officers [illegible] a trifle stuck up. [illegible] to-day Bertie. I shan't in[illegible] upon you often. Writing is [illegible] my list, as you see, does not [illegible] to Alexandra and the olive [illegible] I have got, all fruits of [illegible] to see you all in time for [illegible] partridges. I shall then have [illegible] voyaging for a year or more [illegible] has sent me a very kind invitation [illegible] to in September. I'd like to [illegible] him so. Fred and Vic [illegible] afterward to Hesse-land to stay [illegible] Dagmar [illegible] world that the [illegible] glad to see me after my tour. [illegible] Will Thyra be staying with [illegible] me in the autumn? Many [illegible] portrait, which is charming. [illegible] brother, [illegible]"

[illegible] SCHOOL WORK.

GIVE [illegible] AND [illegible] LEARNING TO READ.

[illegible]

But they are required in order that the pupil, while learning how to read, may also increase his knowledge and acquire a taste for reading good books. Very few possess such a taste now.

What can be better in the hands of every child who is able to read the primer, than a magazine, beautifully illustrated, with matter judiciously prepared for the object in view, coming once a month, and thus giving twelve new books a year? This is the present, and proper motive that would make learning to read a pleasure, and therefore, of easy accomplishment. The child who can read the primer, if a suitable magazine be placed in his hands, will do nearly all the rest by himself and without compulsion, while there is laid the foundation of a permanent taste for reading good books. In quite a number of schools and in thousands of families the experiment has been already tried with the happiest results.

Several publishers are making special effort to meet this want of the common school, and they offer their magazines at rates which are quite reasonable. I trust that school committees will bring the matter to the attention of teachers, and that teachers will present it to the children and parents. The children's magazine, once in the school, will hold its own just as it does in every house where there are boys and girls, and where it has once gained admission.

The magazine is not to supersede the regular drill books, though it will tend to reduce their number and size, but it is to supplement them, and thus keeping the pupils from pushing ahead into books above them, comprehension. With one half the present time devoted to reading in the drill books, and the other half to reading in the magazine, the pupils would be enabled to read the drill books vastly better than now. But the magazine is quite as much for use at home as in the school, a perpetual joy incentive to study, which no considerate father will deny his child because of the annual pittance it costs.

In my next, I will say a few words about methods of teaching children to read, though these, become of minor importance when the children have been provided with a motive for learning.—[O. B. Stetson, in Lewiston Journal.

THE FENIAN CAMPAIGN.

"To arms! they come—[illegible]

Rumors are flying f[illegible] Canadian border, of t[illegible] hosts; mysterious ex[illegible] hither and thither, wi[illegible] of conspiracy, and th[illegible] the Dominion are ev[illegible] vance the sulphurous [illegible] flict. That some fo[illegible] foot, there is little roo[m] [illegible] at present the exact p[illegible] ing is not quite plain. [illegible] various parts of the co[illegible] ous effort on the part [illegible] stir up some kind of ex[illegible] enthusiastic and credu[lous] [illegible] they may again succee[d] [illegible] their unthinking followers in a movement which can in no way benefit them, and which is likely to bring upon them suffering and punishment. As usual in these attempted invasions, very little successful effort seems made to conceal the operations, and the proud Briton across the line has ample notice to stand on the defensive, so that Gen. O'Neill will probably meet with some resistance in his effort to absorb the Canadas.

The proclamation of President Grant evinces a conviction on the part of our government authorities, that overt acts of hostility to our neighboring community are seriously contemplated, and its promulgation is a warning to all persons that the United States will not permit infractions of the law to pass unnoticed. We are at peace with the British provinces, and to permit the invasion of that country by bodies of men, enlisted, armed and drilled upon our soil, and using our territory as a base from which to operate, would be alike in contravention of international law, and disgraceful to us as a people. We sympathize with the sufferings and the wrongs of Ireland, and no other nation has offered such an asylum or such privilege as her people have enjoyed in this country; but the attempt to exercise at once the rights of American citizens, and the military character of Irish Republicans at war upon nations with whom we hold peaceful relations, is an absurdity, and when carried into practice, becomes a crime before the law. We cannot see any possible relief or benefit to accrue to Ireland or Irishmen from these predatory raids upon colonies separated from the mother country by three thousand miles of ocean, and it is gratifying to find that the more sensible, even among zealous Fenians, discountenance and discourage such action. The leaders, however, seem determined to keep alive the notoriety which fills the Treasury, and their rash adherents will only discover too late that they are the dupes of an unreasoning enthusiasm.

MR. LYNCH'S SPEECH.

Dixon telegraphs to the Boston Advertiser in reference to the vote on this bill, that the Western men generally opposed it on anti-protective grounds. Mr. Lynch carried the call for the previous question by four majority, but lost the call for the main question preliminary to the final vote by 8 majority, and the management of the case before the House thereupon fell into the hands of Mr. Cullom of Illinois. The fight against the bill was led by those who are totally opposed to its principle, though their majority embraces some who are not exactly in opposition, but want certain minor changes in the measure. Mr. Lynch thinks he may at least save the 1st and 2d sections which give drawbacks on the materials used in ship building, and remit the duties on coal and ship stores used by our vessels. Mr. Cullom intends making a speech against the bill when it comes up again.

CONSOLIDATION.

At a special meeting of the stock-holders of the Portland & Kennebec Railroad in Portland, Wednesday afternoon, the action of the Directors in leasing their road for 999 years to the Maine Central, was unanimously ratified.

The Maine Central guage is to be changed when they extend their road from Danville Junction to a connecting point with the Kennebec. The Kennebec stock-holders are to have Maine Central stock issued to them, equal in amount to the present capital stock.

The anti-railroad consolidation met again in the evening. Arguments were made against it as being opposed to the interests of the City and State; as being done by Boston capital to control our trade, and as being the nucleus of a directory intended to control all the railroads of the State, to the prejudice of the people as in California. It was urged that the original establishment of a broad guage for this State which was adopted after a severe struggle, was of great benefit to the State, and that this attempt to break up the system should be opposed as an injury to ourselves and an injustice and breach of faith towards our neighbors who will lose them through connection between Canada and the lower Provinces. The meeting adjourned till this evening.

The difficulty between Superintendant Hurlburd of the New York Post Office and the City Park authorities, has been amicably arranged, and the work is now going forward rapidly.

THE FENIANS.

EXCITEMENT ON THE BORDER—MYSTERIOUS MOVEMENTS—CANADA ALARMED.

[illegible] Canada, May 25.

[illegible] exists here, and [illegible] on account of the threatened Fenian raid. Active preparations are being made to oppose any attempt of the kind. Troops left Montreal last night for St. John and the east front.

A special to the Daily Telegraph from Buffalo, says that it is not unlikely that a raid will be made on the Niagara front. The Windsor volunteers have been called out, and also the Grand Trunk brigade at Montreal.

CINCINNATI, O., May 25.

Gen. Starr, Col. Trusney, Major O'Kiefe, and three privates left here last night for the North. Their efforts to get men have failed. The organization refuses to furnish money or arms, or to continue an attempt regarded as doomed to failure.

OSWEGO, N. Y., May 25.

A company of the First U. S. artillery, stationed at Fort Ontario, are under orders to move immediately.

No movement of Fenians is reported at this point.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 25.

The British steamer Norseman, running to and from this port, came in this morning and left immediately, fearing seizure by the Fenians.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., May 25.

Gen. O'Neill crossed the line last night at 8 o'clock. Troops are moving in two columns, one upon St. John and the other upon Richmond. O'Neill declares that he will never recross unless victorious or dead.

The Lewiston Journal says:

We learn that about 40 Irishmen, supposed to be Fenians, passed up the Grand Trunk Railroad Wednesday morning. They all had tickets for Island Pond, and represented that they were going to work on a Railroad there. They took possession of one of the cars on the train, forcing all other passengers out and planted a guard at the door, and no one but the conductor was allowed to enter. One of the number had a sword; but otherwise the party was unarmed. It is surprisingly cool to force the Grand Trunk Railroad to carry men to the border to whip the Canadians.

TORONTO, May 25.

Considerable excitement still exists in regard to the Fenian raid, but the government appears to be well advised of all their movements, and is fully prepared for any attempt at invasion. The volunteer forces are prepared to move at once.

MONTREAL, May 24.

Instructions have been sent to Gen. Lindsey to take active steps for the defence of the frontier. A considerable force left here at 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

OTTAWA, Can., May 25.

The U. S. government has 150 regular troops on their way to Ogdensburg.

100 Fenians were left behind to-day at Rome, N. Y., for want of accommodation.

150 men of the garrison artillery and two guns of the field artillery will leave this afternoon for Prescott, if required.

A Portland dispatch of last evening says that about 75 Fenians arrived there Tuesday night under the command of Col. McNamara, accompanied by Cols. Driscoll and Sennett of Gen. O'Neill's staff, en route for Canada. They left in the morning trains for Island Pond, and with them about 30 men from Portland. Another detachment arrived at noon Wednesday and went directly through. Vague and contradictory rumors were circulated as to large numbers to follow. As the Grand Trunk train was about to start British Consul Murray arrived, accompanied by the U. S. Marshal, who seized a baggage car belonging to the Canadian Express Company, supposed to contain a large quantity of arms and ammunition. The train left without it, and the contraband articles were turned over to the Eastern Express Company, who brought them without examination. About 800 men are supposed to have gone forward by the Grand Trunk, and it is supposed this movement is a feint to draw the British troops away from the real point of attack.

MONTREAL, May 25.

The latest dispatches state that the Fenians are at Trout River, in Huntington County, intending to cross.

600 volunteers leave for the front at noon. The 60th regiment is expected at 4 o'clock from Quebec.

Fenians to the number 800 are at Pigeon Hill and are throwing up entrenchments.

Lord Colonel Russell and the Prince Consort's Own Rifles have gone to the front, with the Montreal volunteers. They are going to attack the entrenchments. Prince Arthur goes with this regiment on Lord Russell's staff. Col. Osborne Smith is in command of the volunteers as an advance guard.

The Fenian movement will not at all interfere with the Red River expedition.

Great satisfaction is expressed at President Grant's proclamation.

The volunteers all respond with the utmost readiness.

The Fenians need not expect much mercy, there being a strong feeling of deep indignation against them.

It is thought the military authorities will not attempt to check the invaders near the border, but will allow them to come in some distance in order to get a good chance at them. This is understood to be Gen. Lindsey's advice.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., May 25.

500 Fenians passed through Massena last night moving toward Hogansburg. When the train stopped at the station they jumped off and rushed into the nearest houses and took provisions indiscriminately.

The Fenian campaign is said to be sending out small parties of cavalry to harass the border at various points, thus distracting the attention of the Canadian forces, while the main body will make a grand attack in some unexpected quarter.

[illegible] men who went to Malone yesterday, as soon as they disembarked fell into military procession and marched off at once with the steadiness of old veterans, in a northerly direction.

What does Reason say?

The little mongoose, which bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings, on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poisons which generate disease? Surely it does. The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies, let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprises an unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials as to the fact that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possesses strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort, when our health is imperilled either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherited and constitutional or engendered with our habits, occupations and pursuits. The venom of a noxious reptile is scarcely more subtile and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders, disturbances of the bowels, and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrities, the elements, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be, so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system can oppose to the deleterious influences that assail it, the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medicine. may23

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS--SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, May 25.

SENATE.

Mr. Chandler offered a resolution instructing the Com. on Commerce to inquire and report as to the most feasible mode of restoring American commerce to American vessels. It was laid on the table preparatory to remarks to be made on the subject by Mr. Chandler on Friday morning.

A bill making an appropriation of $25,000 out of the funds of the freedman's, in aid of the Wilburforce University of Ohio, was passed 35 to 11.

The consular, diplomatic and other appropriation bills were received from the House and referred, and the Senate resumed the consideration of the bill to enforce the 15th amendment.

The question of order by Mr. Saulsbury that it was not competent for the Committee to add new matter to a section which had been agreed to by both Houses, was overruled, after a full statement of the case by the chair.

After speeches against the bill by Messrs. Bayard and Saulsbury, Mr. Stewart closed the debate in remarks congratulatory to the Senate and the country that the principles of the 15th amendment are now to be put in actual practice; that equal rights to Chinese under the laws were fully established; and that the Government was to be preserved from destruction by election frauds in New York, or violence and conspiracy in Georgia. The bill then passed by 48 to 11, and the Senate proceeded with the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill, the question being on the amendment by Mr. Drake to prevent the admission of pardon of amnesty as evidence in the Court of Claims, in favor of the loyalty of the claimant, and regulating the rule on the subject.

The discussion on Mr. Drake's amendment was participated in by Messrs. Edmunds, Sawyer and Hamilton of Texas, in favor, and by Mr. Fowler in opposition and occupied the remainder of the session until the recess.

Messrs. Trumbull, Conkling and Thurman were appointed a Committee of Conference on the bill amendatory of the bankrupt law.

At the evening session the discussion on Mr. Drake's amendment was continued, which was finally adopted, 33 to 19, and without disposing of the bill the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Wednesday next is assigned for the business committee on banking and currency.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill to revive the navigation and commercial interests.

Mr. Farnsworth, of Illinois, opposed the bill.

Mr. Lynch, of Me., remarked that the committee had agreed to a substitute for the bill, and he offered it to be voted upon as an amendment.

Mr. Ingersoll, of Illinois, argued that the committee had misconceived the duty assigned to it. That duty was to inquire into the cause of the decay of American commerce and navigation; but the committee had confined it so far as the pending bill was concerned to the ship building interest. Everybody knew that iron ships could not be built in Maine, and that wooden ships could not compete with iron ships in foreign trade. If the bill were to become a law, it would not endanger the interests of foreigners in carrying American tonnage, so far as foreign trade was concerned, would continue to decline until it became actually extinct. It would have been just as sensible, when railroad business superseded the old stage coach business, to have reported a bill to revive the coach building interest, as to report the pending bill.

Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, also offered a bill as not giving relief at the very place where relief was most needed, namely, in regard to foreign tonnage.

The morning hour expired and the bill went over.

In the substitute offered by Mr. Lynch, the preamble is the same as in the original bill; but the first section is modified.

The Pacific Railroad Committee reported without amendment the North'n Pacific Railroad bill, and Mr. Hawley addressed the House in support of his amendment, which forbids the company to sell its lands to other than actual settlers, in lots of 160 acres, or at prices beyond $2 50 an acre. He showed from the report of the Senate Committee, that the land grant would cover 47,500,000 acres, which at an average of $10 an acre, including town and city lots, would amount to $178,000,000; but as the Company had it in its power to lengthen the branch road land grant, it might really be extended so far as to cover 750,000,000.

The bill was further discussed by Messrs. Sargent of Cal., Clarke of Kansas, Lawrence of O., and Coburn of Ind., each of whom offered amendments designed to limit the powers of the company and protect the rights of settlers.

Mr. Ela of N. H., opposed the measure as dangerous to the ascendancy of the Republican party.

Mr. Blair of Mich., was in favor of the policy of developing public lands by the means of railroads and railroad grants.

The debate continued until 1:35 p. m., when the main question was ordered.

Mr. Wheeler being entitled to the floor for an hour, yielded part of his time to Messrs. Sargent and Poland, who favored the bill, and to Mr. Cox, who opposed it, after which the House rejected Mr. Hawley's amendment by 75 to 108, and Mr. Sargent's land granted to the operation of the homestead and pre-emption laws, by 74 to 105, and without further action adjourned.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES. A serious conflagration occurred on Tuesday morning in St. Roche, a suburb of Quebec, by which five or six thousand people are made homeless and $100,000 worth of property destroyed. It originated in a baker's shop, and although the troops were called out and every effort made to check it by blowing up the houses, it was all unavailing. Some 600 houses were destroyed and two ships were burned on the stocks. Two men are missing and a number of accidents occurred. The homeless people are lodged by the corporation, and there will be great distress unless outside aid is received.

A fire broke out in the Missouri Republican office at St. Louis Tuesday afternoon, by which the building was entirely destroyed, with the presses and library. Loss $160,000. J. W. McCULLOH.

BOSTON, Mass., May 18, 1870.

To George W. Miller, Insurance Superintendent, of the State of New York:

J. W. McCulloh represents that he was appointed by the Legislature of New York to examine the affairs of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and that he has made many charges against the officers of that company, all of which have been sustained by you. Is this true? Have the officers, or any of them, committed any wrong or breach of trust? What is the result of your examination? A public meeting of policy-holders is called to meet here Thursday, which McCulloh proposes to address. In your opinion, after the investigation you have made, is there anything in the conduct of the officers of the Company which should forfeit the confidence of the policy-holders in them? Answer by telegram, and also by to-day's mail.

NEW YORK, May 18, 1870.

George C. Richardson, Esq., Boston, Mass.:

All charges made by Mr. McCulloh or others were fully investigated. The examination has been thorough. The charges of breach of trust and mismanagement have not in any point been established. Nothing has been shown which should forfeit or impair the confidence of the policy-holders or public in the Company or its management. My examination [illegible] that the Company has been managed with peculiar ability and integrity, and that its condition is eminently sound. I shall publish an official report soon.

BOOTS.--Their moral effect. The influence of Boots upon the mind is very different from that of any other garment. A man may think a thing but he forgets it. His coat may bother him, but his mind is not directed toward it. We defy a man to stand upright in a worn out pair of Bluchers. He cannot look people straight in the face, but deals on the square with them. A man [illegible] sometimes flatters himself that he carries [illegible] from them by the use of a splendid [illegible] but this is a delusion and a snare.

Boots are the key of the position, and we declare that no man or woman ought to undertake any serious matter, unless they stand up in a good pair of Boots. They can be found in all the best styles and qualities, at J. A. CROWELL'S, 42 Main St. may23

(From Appleton's Journal.)

[Concluded.]

As Eversley appeared where Banda was already waiting, he caught the last glimpse of a dress disappearing down one of the native paths.

"Who is that, Banda? Has Miss Sandiland gone out to walk?"

"Missee Kate, sahib."

Eversley thought for a moment, then entered the house, and returned with a double-barrelled rifle, which he gave to the shikarru.

"We may come across some large game," he said; and taking up his own gun, walked rapidly away in the direction Kate had gone, followed by Banda.

An hour and a half was spent working on the edge of a swamp a mile from Sound, and Grouse had been kept busy, when a snipe rose some distance off. With a long shot Eversley brought it down; but the bird towered and pitched dead a hundred yards farther on the edge of a strip of jungle. The dog was sent to retrive it. As they drew near the spot, and were feathering along the brush, the dog, with a yelp and a growl, came racing back to his master, his tail between his legs, and every hair on his body erect, and quivering with rage and fear.

"What's up now, Grouse?" said Eversley, with a laugh. "Go on, old dog. Seek dead!"

But the dog refused to move, replying with a deep growl, and gazing intently at the jungle.

Eversley walked to the spot, with the view of recovering the bird and ascertaining the object of Grouse's terror. Something on the ground attracted his attention. Stooping, he examined it intently, and, then rising, called to the shikarru:

"Banda, no wonder poor Grouse is in such a funk. Here are the tracks of our friend the tiger, and not half an hour old, and, good God, Miss Sandiland is out and alone!"

Eversley was a man of great coolness and nerve, but for a moment a terrible feeling of fear came over him. But for a moment only—the next, he was again the man of prompt and decided action.

"Draw the charges from my gun, Banda, and load with ball; then follow up the track; I am going to search for Miss Sandiland."

And, seizing the rifle from the shikarru's hand, he struck across the low jungle toward the path taken by Kate, crashing through the tall grass and brush at a pace that would have distanced any but a sportsman.

Miss Sandiland pursued her way toward the spot, the frequent termination of her evening walks. Once a mere bridle-track occasionally used by coolie fishermen, her brother, at her wish, had caused it to be opened and enlarged. To-day, lost in thought, she had followed it carelessly, until she found herself out on the gray, sandy beach of the strait.

The sun was setting behind the blue mountains and the water blazed with vivid streaks of red; the sky, broken into heavy masses of clouds, was glorious in gold and purple, and all the wonderful blendings of an Indian sunset.

Kate stood for a while, watching with eager eyes the rapid transformations of shape and color; and then, tempted by the firm, smooth sand, strolled along the beach, and seated herself upon a low ledge of rock.

She sat long, absorbed by the sunset and her thoughts, interweaving the rich hues of the one with the varying lights and shadows of the other, until the paling clouds warned her that it was time to return.

But, as she rose from her seat, her eyes grew suddenly glazed and fixed; the rounded graceful lines of the fair form appeared to stiffen into marble, and she stood breathless, almost lifeless with terror, half-blinded with the horror of her first glance. She rather felt than saw, that she stood face to face with a tiger.

Crouching, motionless, upon the edge of the jungle, not thirty yards from where she stood, with its haggard cowardly eyes glaring at her, lay the giant form of the huge beast! Flashing through the girl's brain came a score of mad, wild impulses, with lightning-like rapidity. But she remembered—she had heard Eversley say, and the pain at her heart grew greater as she thought of him—that the only chance of safety was to face, with a steady eye, the treacherous brute before her. Her eyes had been fastened upon it with a helpless sort of fascination; but now she roused herself to fix them sternly on the fierce, great orbs, that thrilled her with their cruel glare.

Her courage rose and sank as hope and fear alternated; but at last even her brave nature began to fail. She felt that her breath came in long, gasping sobs; the light began to fade from her eyes; the dreadful form of the tiger grew dim and indistinct, and she knew that she was fainting. With a last effort, she roused herself, and cried:

"Eversley, Eversley! why are you not here?"

"My brave darling, I am here?"

And a dark form swept rapidly past and stood between her and her terrible foe.

Kate recovered her senses in an instant, and the scene before her was never forgotten. The tiger, roused by the presence of a new antagonist, was still crouching with its head between its enormous paws, but the long striped back was arched for a spring, and the long lithe tail swept in angry curves from side to side, its eyes sparkled red with rage, and a savage snarl that made Kate's blood run cold came from the wrinkled, grinning jaws.

Eversley, no new hand at tiger-shooting, and, next to "Tiger Rice," the keenest eye and steadiest hand on trigger in India, stood like a rock, for what seemed to poor Kate an eternity, though but a few swift seconds. But, as he drew the trigger, the tiger moved its head with a slight upward motion, and the ball, missing the brain, buried itself in the massive chest! With a growl that filled the air like thunder, the huge brute shot forward! Kate closed her eyes, but the second barrel had done its duty! Crashing through the tawny skull, the ball passed through the brain, lodging deep in the knotted muscles of the neck, and, dead in the air, the huge carcass rolled over, a lifeless heap, a few yards from Eversley's feet.

He threw his rifle down, and turned to Miss Sandiland.

"Thank God!" he said; and there was such an earnest pathos in his tones that the warm tears rushed to Kate's eyes as she held both hands toward him, with a look that must have spoken volumes.

For a moment after, the gray eyes were hidden deep in the breast of his shooting-jacket. They were raised presently, with tears still trembling on their lashes.

"I do indeed thank God, dearest; and doubly that I am saved by you."

Fred Sandiland rang the bell impatiently.

"Send Miss Sandiland's maid to tell her that dinner is on the table. And where is Captain Eversley?"

"Eversley Sahib walk on veranda with Missee Kate," replied Chitty, with a salaam.

Sandiland walked wrathfully across the room, and threw the glass-door open.

"Kate, I'm astonished!"—but he stopped short, with a whistle.

Kate rose with a lovely blush, and, throwing her arms round his neck, whispered as she kissed him:

"Jim will tell you all about it, dear Fred."

"Jim, indeed!" exclaimed her brother, sarcastically, as she vanished.

"What does it all mean, Eversley? I thought I knew something about young women, but this is a new phase."

Eversley told his story, and told it again later, as they sat together after dinner beneath the jessamines, and Sandiland laughed lightly, to conceal his deeper emotion.

"I can't thank you, my dear old fellow; I'll leave Kate to do that," he said; and then went on, to his sister's indignation; "but believe me, Eversley, the tiger was the best trump you ever played!"

And, putting his hands in his pockets, he strolled down to the beach to finish his cheroot, while Kate Sandiland paid her debt of thanks.

VALUABLE

Timber Lands

And Mill Property,

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber, desirous of disposing of all his interest in Timber Lands and mills, will sell on favorable terms the following:

One-Half Township No. 5, Range 4, Oxford County.

The whole township contains twenty-six thousand (26,000) acres; is heavily timbered with spruce, estimated at sixty to eighty millions, all of which stands within near and easy hauling distance of the Magalloway river or its branches, which runs through the town, or Parmachee Lake, which is embraced within its limits.

Also 10,000 Acres of Land in the Town of Byron, Oxford Co.

well covered with large Spruce timber. Swift river and its branches run through these lands and empty into the Androscoggin below Rumford Falls.

Also 1100 Acres Timber and Wood Land in Town of Gorham, N. H.

two miles above the Alpine House, on the line of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and the banks of the Androscoggin river. There is a large quantity of wood on these lots which, from its proximity to the Railroad, is steadily increasing in value.

Also 2500 Acres Lands in the Towns of Albany and Stoneham.

near the village of North Waterford, Oxford County. This land is covered with thrifty sapling Pine timber, standing near Crooked river, which runs through the tract. Logs put into Crooked river can be run to Saccarappa, or by hauling four to five miles they can be put into the Saco. There is a good mill privilege, with a single saw mill on the tract; distance to the canal at Harrison ten miles; to the railroad at South Paris twelve miles. The land is valuable for settling purposes after being cleared of timber.

Also 435 Shares of Stock in the Lewiston Steam Mill Company, the whole capital stock being represented by 527 shares. The property of the company consists of a Steam Saw Mill, capable of manufacturing five millions feet of long lumber, with a proportionate amount of clapboards, shingles and laths. About fifteen acres land in the city of Lewiston, well located for building purposes, and thirty thousand acres of timber land, well located on the Androscoggin river and its branches, from which but a small quantity of the timber has been cut.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR STOCK. The question is very frequently asked, "What shall I do for my cow?" or "My colt is sick—can you tell what to give him?" These inquiries are sometimes accompanied by descriptions which would enable a veterinary surgeon, or one acquainted with diseases of animals, to form an opinion as to the nature of the disease. It is often that no account of the symptoms is given, and very frequently the owner is unable to give one.

Many farmers have certain specific remedies which they administer in all cases without regard to the nature of the difficulty. In some instances they may be useful, in others they are of no benefit, and not unfrequently they do much harm. These remedies are very numerous, almost everyone having some favorite dose which his father used before him, and which is believed to be "a cure" for all manner of complaints. There is another class, who depend entirely on what their neighbors recommend, and who pour freely everything down the poor beast's throat that anybody advises. We have in mind the case of a very valuable Merino ram, in those halcyon days when wool was $1 a pound in the farmer's garret, and $1000 was considered a small sum to represent the value of such an animal; the poor creature, with constitution enfeebled by an excessively heavy fleece and superabundant deposit of yolk, broke down under the strain of unnatural and stimulating food and excessive service. The owner who had refused an offer of $2500 for him was in dismay, and knowing nothing about treating sick animals, asked the opinion of everyone, and followed the advice of all. Thoroughwort, squills, turpentine, castor oil, decoction of tobacco, ... and a dozen other drugs followed each other in rapid succession, until a stomach that needed rest was filled with a fermenting mass of matter that would have ... a passage through the sides of ... Of course the ram died. This is a literal truth, and no fancy sketch, and although it is an extreme case, it is, just as ... much of the treatment received by ... animals.

It is not strange that farmers do not understand doctoring cattle. They have too much to do to study the subject. Veterinary surgeons are so few that it is not possible to ... their assistance in many cases, and the common "cow doctors," or "farriers," as they styled themselves, are usually too ignorant to be accused of quackery. As a general thing, sick animals live or die, as nature ... them or not. The farmer can write to some agricultural editor, and obtain ... what ... after his best cow has gone to ... in a compost heap.

There is only one remedy which is suited alike to all diseases, all animals, and to every climate, and never fails. It costs nothing—less than nothing for the improved condition of the stock in consequence of this neglected ... being kept on hand, is worth many dollars, and every farmer may have it. It is Prevention. IMPORTANCE OF GOOD SEED. The efforts of Mr. Atherton to obtain some good seed barley, as related by that gentleman in his communication to the Farmer of a recent date, shows what a good farmer thinks of the importance of sowing pure, heavy seed and the sacrifice he is willing to make to secure it. And we are strongly of the opinion that if more farmers took like pains to get good seed we should hear less complaint about poor crops. The farmer who breeds from inferior stock can certainly expect no improvement in his increase; and so the farmer who sows light, foul seed should not be disappointed if his yield is of the same nature. The famous "Pedigree Wheat," originated by Mr. Hallett of England, was the result of careful selection and persistent cultivation of the best; and, what he accomplished can be accomplished by any farmer who will be at the pains to sow the best, and take particular care of the product. An instance in point is that related by a writer in the Boston Journal of Chemistry, who is arguing for what he terms thoroughbred seed. He stated in substance, that Mr. David Wentzel of Salem, Mass., sowed on most of his two acres of ... richest onion ground, the best quality of "thoroughbred" seed; a portion of the rest with seed from a neighbor and the remainder was bought at a seed store, and was probably a fair average. All came up equally well. The thoroughbred seed gave scarcely an imperfect onion, and the crop was very large; the seed from the neighbor produced onions ten days later, less in quantity and quality, and valued at twenty-five per cent. less than the first. The onions from seed obtained at the store were still later, fewer and poorer, and valued as fifty per cent less than the first.

ASHES FOR FRUIT TREES. We have known quite a number of instances—indeed, so often as to make it quite a rule—that old orchards apparently dying out have been brought back to fruitfulness by the liberal use of wood-ashes; also, stirring the soil. Potash is the most important element in the successful growth of all kinds of fruit trees. An old gentleman told a club, not long ago, that he had known a man to make and preserve an orchard of apple trees in a flourishing and productive condition, originally placed on very poor PROTECTION TO WALLS AND CHIMNEYS. The decay of marble fronts and other constructions of stone into which lime or magnesia enters as a component, and of the mortar joints in brick chimneys and walls, which in many cities has become a serious difficulty, is attributed to the continued evolution of sulphurous and sulphuric acid by the combustion of coal—each ton of the coal being capable of supplying about seventy pounds of oil of vitriol. In addition to the chemical corrosion, a mechanical disintegration is supposed to be produced by the alternating solution of the sulphates formed, and their recrystallization on the surface and in the pores of the stone. It is stated that this action can be almost entirely prevented by applying to the clean surfaces an aqueous solution of superphosphate of lime, which acting on the carbonate of lime produces the unalterable diphosphate of lime. For magnesian limestones, baryta may be added. The cost of materials is but trifling, and one gallon of solution will give two coats to three hundred square feet of surface. The strength of the stone and its resistance to absorption of moisture, are said to be greatly increased by the process, a matter of importance where the freezing of water in the pores of the stone is one cause of decay.

HOW TO GET FAT.—It is a startling fact that persons want to weigh more than they do, and measure their health by their weight, as if a man were a pig, valuable in proportion to his heaviness. The race is not fat; a good, plough horse has but a moderate amount of flesh. Heavy men are not those whom experienced contractors employ to build railroads and dig ditches. Thin men, the world over, are the men for work, for endurance; they are wiry and hardy; thin people live the longest; the truth is, fat is a disease; and, as proof, fat people are never well a day at a time,—are not suited for hard work. Still there is a medium between being fat as a butter-ball and as thin and juiceless as a ... For more looks, a moderate rotundity is most desirable, to have enough of flesh to cover all angularities. To accomplish this in the shortest time, a man should work but little, sleep a great part of the time, allow nothing to worry him, keep always in a jovial, laughing mood, and live chiefly on albuminates, such as boiled cracked wheat, and rye, and oats, and corn, and barley, with sweet milk, and butter-milk and meats. Sugar is the best fattener known.—From Dr. Hall's Health by Good Living.

POTASH FOR FRUIT TREES.—A writer in the Country Gentleman made the following experiment, and is convinced that potash is of benefit to fruit trees:—

Two years ago last fall, we purchased some crude potash, dissolved it in water and scattered it under the trees, and we also threw about them small pieces of the potash, undissolved. Last year we noticed no change in the fruit or appearance of the trees. In the fall we had them all pruned thoroughly according to rule, taking off all irregular and interfering limbs, and making the heads of the trees look rather like ... "Last fall we had rather more fruit than usual, the tops assuming a fine shape, and the fruit being the largest, fairest and best we ever saw. The fruit was nearly all uniformly large, perfectly fair and free from blemish or imperfections. We could plainly distinguish improvement in the flavor. Now, there is probably no question but that proper pruning improves the fruit, but we believe that the potash played no inconsiderable part in our success last year. The first year it "probably" did not get carried down to the roots so as to have much effect.

A FAMILY SUIT.—A very pretty Oakland girl, not over eighteen years of age, brought a suit for breach of promise against a young merchant, who had changed his mind and taken another bride.

The trial came on and the girl's mother, a fat, red-faced old dame, was present in the bar, to give moral effect to the recital of her daughter's wrongs.

The counsel for the plaintiff, in summing up, descanted at length and with moving pathos upon "the enormity of that defendant's guilt in creeping into the bosom of this family" (here the old lady pinned her shawl closer), "and deceiving and disappointing this fair girl."

Here the venerable mother could contain herself no longer, but with gushing tears exclaimed:

"He deceived us all, gentlemen! Me and all the rest—me and all the rest."

The effect was magical, but not just what the old lady expected.

HOW TO COOK SALT PORK.

Salt pork is used more extensively in rural districts in the summer than any other meat, and yet strange to say, very few know how to cook it. First, the pork should not be over eight or nine months old, and not over fatted. There is as much difference between the old, as there is between a nice plump chicken and an old hen. The pork should be cut one-fourth of an inch thick, and then put into a bowl half full of cold water; fill the bowl with hot water and let it stand about five minutes, then dredge in flour and boil over a moderate fire. When on the griddle it should not be left an instant, but should be turned over three or four times, and should be nearly as white when taken from the griddle as when put on. If the pork is turned brown and the fat tried out, it is simply spoiled. Use butter as you would on beef steak, only a less quantity. The fat should not be eaten with the pork. Whoever will try the above method once, will never broil pork any other way.—People.

A pious but injudicious individual with a set of stencil plates, devotes Saturday nights in Waterbury, Connecticut, to posting scriptural questions on the blank walls. Working in the dark, he chooses some queer places. It is apt to destroy the intended effect, says the local paper, to read, "What must I do to be saved?" "Try Dr. Sprague's Female Strengthening Bitters."

THE PRESS ON FENIANISM.

The New York papers of Thursday morning generally characterize the Fenian invasion as reckless, ill-advised, and calculated to bring ridicule and disgrace upon their cause.

The Tribune, with a desire to deal gently with the Brotherhood while condemning the recent movement, says that the folly of O'Neill has cost thousands of working people their last dollar, and some of them their lives; covering a good cause with disgrace; postponing the liberation of Ireland and degrading Irishmen in the estimation of the public, who will not discriminate between their patriotism and the imbecile vanity of their leaders.

The Herald, harping upon its familiar string, advises British statesmen to end these troubles by ceding the Province as an offset to the Alabama claims, intimating that Canada will never be secure until that bill is paid.

The Sun, (lately appointed corporation paper by the City Government,) finds an opportunity to fling at the President, and bids for Irish subscribers, by asking how much better it would have been for the Government to have said that, until the Alabama claims are settled, the United States will not defend Great Britain from her enemies. It also fears that the question may involve us in serious difficulties with England.

The particulars were received in London with some excitement, and the Proclamation was warmly commended. The London Times editorially says that "while the proclamation is satisfactory, the absence of a military force upon the frontier is deplorable, though not surprising, as troops are seldom quartered on a friendly border." It advises the sending of troops to Canada at once and calls on the Provinces to send every soldier to the front. "Canada must have no tenderness for this second offence. The marauders must be treated as robbers, ruffians and murderers." The London Telegraph says, "President Grant has acted with loyalty and honor"; and the Morning Post is confident that "the loyal and energetic action of the American President will place the Fenians in their proper light before the world, as being the enemies of mankind."

From the conflicting reports it is impossible to know the full extent of this movement, although it seems probable that the firm attitude of our Government and the capture of O'Neill, have demoralized the raiders and thwarted their plans. It is to be hoped that no more lives are to be lost in this mad expedition; and if the press of our large cities had been sufficiently outspoken in denouncing all such purposeless and unlawful assaults upon an unoffending people, instead of pandering unduly to political and national prejudices, the designing men who have twice led their followers into difficulty and death, would have found it less easy to impose upon their confiding countrymen. The duty of the Government is imperative, and we trust its action will be prompt and effective.

THE DARIEN EXPEDITION. United States steamer Nyack, of the Darien Surveying Expedition, arrived at Panama on the 14th inst. from Bayano river, and some of her discharged men were sent home. A new supply of coal was taken and the steamer returned to Bayano on the 16th.

Steamer Alaska brings advices from the Darien Surveying Expedition to the 18th. The work had progressed 12 miles inland from the Bay of San Blas,—the highest elevation passed being 112 feet. Heavy rains impeded the survey. The sick list of the Guard numbered eight persons. Three officers at the front with the surveying party, were sick, with fever and ague. The rest were in good health. The expedition expect to sail for home about May 27.

The 29th annual meeting of stockholders of the Northern Railroad, was held at Concord, N. H., on Thursday. Resolutions were adopted approving the contract with the Concord Railroad, and the following Directors were chosen—each receiving the full vote of the meeting: Onslow Stearns, John A. Burnham, G. W. Nesmith, Uriel Crocker, Josiah Minot, Joseph W. Clark and Otis Daniell. Immediately after the adjournment a meeting of the Merrimac & Connecticut R. R. was held, electing Onslow Stearns President; Chas. P. Sanborn, Clerk; and Uriel Crocker, Treasurer, pro tem.

Col. Crosby, of Gen. Sheridan's staff, has arrived at Topeka, Kansas, from the Indian Territory, and reports that the Northern Indians had runners down asking the Cheyennes, Arapahoes, Kiowas and Comanches to join in a general war. The Indians are not planting any corn this year, but those at Fort Dill, on the Canadian border, are putting in a small crop for them.

King William formally closed the sessions of the Reichstag on Thursday. He enumerated the bills passed during the first session of that body, and anticipated that these laws would go a long way toward assuring foreign people that the confederation develops national strength, and is a powerful agent for the preservation and not the insecurity of universal peace.

EXAMINER.

EASTERN NORMAL SCHOOL.

CASTINE, May 25, 1870.

Editor of the Whig and Courier:

The public examination of the Eastern Normal School opened this morning. Gov. Chamberlain and Supt. Johnson were present,—the latter testing the thoroughness of the classes with occasional questions. A very critical attention was given by the students, who were eager to rectify errors of every nature.

The graduating class numbers twenty-seven.

The politeness and respectful manner maintained by the pupils toward each other, seems characteristic of the entire town.

The exercises will conclude on Thursday.

A warrant was issued in Cincinnati on Wednesday for the arrest of Maxwell P. Gaddis, charged with being in conspiracy with Col. T. R. Roberts and J. A. Eberl, to defraud the government of Revenue.

Rev. Isaac Collins, a Methodist clergyman, died at Baltimore, aged 81 years. He served under Gen. Harrison as a chaplain, and a soldier on the Lakes in 1812, and [illegible] the defenders of Baltimore in 1814.

Gen. Jordan was in the House, Thursday afternoon in conference with the members favoring Cuban independence. He has interviewed President Grant, and expressed himself as fully satisfied with the progress made since his arrival.

Gov. Alcorn has recommended to the Mississippi Legislature that the fee for issuing marriage licenses be placed at as low a figure as possible, regarding, as he says, an attempt to raise it as a blow, not alone at the virtue of the poor whites, but at the successful organization of the colored people on the basis of a free civilized society.

Gen. Logan has issued orders assuming command of the Grand Army of the Republic, and appointing as his staff, W. T. Collins, Adjutant General; F. A. Starring, Inspector General; Timothy Lubey, Quartermaster General; N. P. Chipman, Judge Advocate; and Harrison E. Weaver, Assistant Adjutant General.

The murder of State Senator Stephens on Saturday last, at Yanceyville, N. C., is still involved in mystery. The attempt to fasten the tragedy upon any political party is not countenanced. The citizens of Yanceyville, irrespective of party, held a meeting on the 23d inst., denouncing the outrage. All the prominent Democrats of the place took an active part in it.

PRESBYTERIAN. The General Assembly at Louisville, Ky., received as delegates from the Northern Presbyterian Church, Revs. Dr. Backus of Baltimore, Van Dyke of Brooklyn and W. E. Dodge, Esq., of New York. They presented the resolution of that Assembly without asking an immediate correspondence, but requesting the appointment of a committee to meet a similar one appointed by the Northern Assembly, and settle all difficulties on a basis honorable and just to both. The resolutions were referred to the Committee on Foreign Correspondence. Rev. Dr. J. R. Wilson was elected Professor of Pastoral Theology of the Columbia (S. C.) Assembly.

The Reformed Presbyterian Synod at Cincinnati on Wednesday voted, 27 to 10, not to accept the report of the Committee as a basis of union. A resolution was also passed, declaring that the Synod would cease for the present further efforts on the subject of union, and go forward with united hands and hearts in the prosecution of their appropriate work. A final adjournment was carried at one o'clock a. m.

The River and Harbor bill reported in the House on Thursday, appropriates nearly three and a half millions of dollars, including $100,000 for the improvement of Boston Harbor; $40,000 for the Hudson River, and $250,000 for removing the obstructions in East River, including Hell Gate.

[illegible] General [illegible] to be arrested, and that he had force which he would use for his protection. The Marshal seeing a lot of Fenians close at hand then opened the carriage door and with the help of Failey, thrust the Fenian leader into the back seat. The officials jumping into the carriage lashed their horses and left in hot haste. The General arrived at the Weldon house in this village at 4 o'clock, and was soon after arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Smalley for violation of the neutrality laws. He waived an examination, and in default of $20,000 bail, was taken to Burlington this evening to be committed. The arrest of Gen. O'Neill has fallen like a wet blanket on the Fenians and they are said to be badly demoralized. The Fenians fought well, but were evidently not reinforced as they expected. Many are already reported on their way back to St. Albans, bound home. The half past six train from the South this evening, landed here about 120 more men, who immediately took their departure. Unless the Fenians are at once heavily reinforced, the movement so far as this section is concerned, will prove a very great fizzle. Later intelligence places the number killed at two and wounded [illegible]. One of the killed is Lieut. Murray of Boston and the other a Burlington man, name unknown. Company G, 5th U. S. Heavy Artillery, Capt. [illegible] and Arnold, commanding, has arrived here, and more United States troops are expected. It is rumored that General Meade will soon make his appearance.

THE FENIANS.

St. Albans' dispatches of Thursday give the following account of the situation in that vicinity:

The Fenian bubble in this direction has burst. Soon after the arrest of Gen. O'Neill the Fenian officers held a long council of war, and decided that it was useless, with the small number of men at their command, to make any further attempts at invading Canadian soil. The consequence is that the roads leading from here to Franklin are lined with returning "Wearers of the Green." There is not now a Fenian in Franklin. Guns, ammunition, blankets and other paraphernalia of war are about in great abundance, and are being picked up by whoever chooses.

The rank and file complain bitterly of their officers, and say that they do not understand their business. One thing is evident, that the point chosen for crossing the line, was the most unfavorable, and could have been bettered by going half a mile distant, where there was an open field. As it was, the enemy were entrenched behind the rocks and had a decided advantage. An Aid of Gen. O'Neill says that 1,000 men could not have driven the Canadians from their position; which was naturally very strong. The Fenians, for the most part behaved badly, becoming sadly demoralized at the first volley of the Canadian musketry, and the officers had little or no control over them.

TELEGRAPHIC TO THE Whig & Courier.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, May 25.

SENATE.

A resolution passed allowing New Jersey to accept the Stevens Battery under the will of Edwin A. Stevens.

Mr. Casserly presented a memorial from San Francisco merchants for the removal of dangerous rocks in the Bay of San Francisco.

Mr. Conkling, from the Judiciary Com., reported a substitute for the bill regulating the proceedings for naturalization.

The appropriation bill was taken up, and amendments were adopted, increasing the number of clerks in the Land Office; requiring all resolutions in either House for printing documents exceeding $1,500 in amount, to be concurred and referred to a committee; appropriating $12,000 for completing the survey of the Colorado River and tributaries.

The appropriations for a biennial register, were stricken out.

The bill was then reported to the Senate, and the amendments agreed to, except those upon which separate votes were desired by the Senators.

Mr. Edmunds, from the Judiciary Com., submitted a report upon the memorial of the citizens of Rhode Island upon the discriminations against naturalized citizens under the Constitution of that State, and asked that the Committee be discharged from further consideration, and it was so ordered.

An amendment repealing the publication of the laws in newspapers, was agreed to, 20 to 21, but a subsequent amendment was adopted, that newspaper publications shall embrace only the more important laws and treaties, to be selected by the Secretary of State, after which the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

A bill was passed annulling a law of New Mexico, resetting real estate from execution with a proviso that a homestead only to the value of $1,000 be reserved.

The Senate bill creating a new land district in Colorado, was passed.

The House then proceeded to vote on the Northern Pacific Railroad bill and amendments.

An amendment was offered by Mr. Walker of Ohio, to restrict the sale of the new lands granted by the bill, to actual settlers at $2 50 an acre, which was rejected, 86 to 96.

Mr. Randall's amendment to insert the following proviso: "That nothing in this act shall be construed as a guarantee by the United States of the bonds issued by the company, or its agents, or of any bonds authorized or permitted by this act," was rejected, 99 to 92.

The amendment of Mr. Clarke of Kansas, providing that all lands granted shall be immediately opened to settlement and shall be sold to actual settlers only, was rejected, 60 to 116.

Mr. Garfield of Ohio, from the Com. on Rules, reported a resolution, Mr. Mungen's speech on the recognition of Cuba, inserted in the Globe of Feb. 30, contains remarks of a personal character, prohibited by the rules of the House, and not proper to be inserted in the Globe, and instructing the proprietors to exclude it.

Upon the suggestion of the Speaker, that Mr. Mungen was not in his seat, the resolution was withdrawn for the present.

All the pending amendments were successively rejected, and the joint resolution as it came from the Committee, was passed, 107 to 85.

Mr. Bingham of Ohio presented the report of the Conference Com. on the 15th amendment bill, and after a little filibustering by the Democrats, and to prevent more, it was agreed that the report go over until to-morrow.

An hour and a half is to be allowed the opponents of the bill for discussion and the vote will be taken without delay.

The House then took up Mr. Lynch's bill to revive the navigation and commercial interests and Messrs. Farnsworth, Reeves, Axtell and Griswold spoke in favor of the substitute offered yesterday.

In the course of the debate Mr. Lynch characterized the opposition to the bill as English opposition, got up by the agents of the Clyde shipbuilders.

Mr. Logan of Ill., said that the only electioneering done with him and around the House, was by the gentleman from Maine, who was now on the floor in favor of the bill.

Mr. Ingersoll of Ill., remarked that he had been bored by a hundred men in favor of the shipbuilding interests of Maine, and had seen no English agent.

Mr. Lynch repeated his remark about the opposition coming from Clyde shipbuilders.

Mr. Ingersoll said that the gentleman was making a general assault on the Western members, as if they were in company with English agents, which was utterly false, and which he denounced in this place as false—(Calls to order, and much confusion.)

Mr. Lynch continued his argument, and made a strong appeal in support of the substitute, and then moved the previous question.

Mr. Allison of Iowa, moved to lay the bill and pending amendments on the table. Rejected, 61 to 105.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 26.

The President to-day nominated Nathan C. Luther Post Master, at Attleboro, Mass., and Joseph E. Wood Postmaster, at Danvers, Mass.

The President to-day signed the resolution authorizing the payment of the full salary of P. Hovey, Minister to Peru, without deduction on account of absence from his post. He also signed a resolution authorizing Lieut. Commander Arthur R. Yates, surgeon Albert L. Gibson and Asst. Surgeons Chas H. White and Jerome H. Skidder, of the navy, to accept decorations from the King of Portugal in recognition of humane services.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, in a report dismissing petition of O'Neill Larkin and others, of Rhode Island, say no man or party has ever questioned the right of the people of Rhode Island and of every other State to establish such constitution of government as may be agreeable to their views of public welfare, and that State, although its provision as to suffrage may not conform to the opinions of citizens of other States. At the time when the constitution of Rhode Island was adopted, the right to regulate the qualification of voters belonged exclusively to the respective States. The petition under consideration fully recognizes this; but it raised the question whether by the 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution of the United States, natives of foreign countries who are citizens of the United States, are not entitled to vote in Rhode Island without regard to the qualifications imposed by her Constitution.—The Committee are unanimously of the opinion that this question must be answered in the negative. The privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States, mentioned in the petition as secured by the 14th amendment, do not include the right of suffrage; if they did, the right must necessarily exist in all citizens of the United States, from the mere fact of citizenship. It is within the power of any State or of Congress to abridge the same in any degree, and in such case, therefore, no qualification of any kind could be imposed, and all persons being citizens, males and females, infants, lunatics and criminals, without respect to age, length of residence, or any other thing, would be entitled to participate directly in all elections. Every provision in every State which experience has proved to be essential to security and good order in society, would thereby be overthrown. It is enough to say that the rights secured by this amendment to the constitution are of an altogether different character. The 15th amendment does apply to the rights of suffrage, and to them only; by it the State of Rhode Island, in common with every other State, is forbidden to deny or abridge the right of the citizens of the United States to vote, on account of race or color or their previous condition of sentiment; but it is plain that the constitution of Rhode Island does not preclude any citizen from voting in either or any of the grounds thus prohibited. No fact of race or color or previous condition of servitude can prevent any citizen from voting in Rhode Island. When the 15th amendment was under consideration by Congress, it was proposed to embrace in it the prohibition of any denial of suffrage on account of nativity, and this proposition was not agreed to for the reason that Congress did not think it expedient to restrict the ancient powers of the States in these respects any further than it appeared to be needful to secure to the whole people the great results of the overthrow of the rebellion.

PENSION BILL. The bill relating to the payment of pensions, which passed the House of Representatives a week ago, has passed the Senate, with [illegible] an important change in the system of paying pensions. It provides for the payment of pensions quarterly, instead of semi-annually, viz: in September, December, March, and June. It requires the Pension Agents to furnish vouchers to each Pensioner, forbids payment to any claim agent, attorney, broker, or to any person except the pensioner, it reduces the fee of the Agent to [illegible] each of the present charge, and the fee hereafter are to be paid by the government and not by the pensioner. The bill will greatly increase the work and responsibility of the Agents, but is, in many respects, an improvement over the present system, especially in doing the Agent and a heavy [illegible] from receiving any "claim agents," "attorneys," "brokers," in the payment of the soldier's due.—The money will go to the [illegible] and the needy.

—A Portland dispatch says the Anti-Railroad Consolidation meeting met again last evening.

James L. Farmer, merchant, spoke at length, giving statistics. He stated that the right at Hancock street commercial Street and the connection with all the wharves was secured to the Grand Trunk forever, they having built the street, and they can shut out the consolidating roads.

Ex-Mayor Putnam moved the indefinite postponement of the resolution, arguing that it was foolish to discuss in a small meeting which could not represent the city, the right of railroads to do what was guaranteed them in their charter and granted by special law, or to undertake to dictate to the people of the State how, when or where they should go, or to prevent Bangor running a night freight.

Mr. Poor replied, stating that the Directors representing the stock of Bangor in the Maine Central opposed consolidation as injurious to that city, and gave him early notice of the scheme.

The meeting again adjourned, to this evening.

The whole discussion has run so much to personalities, that the question under discussion has been mostly lost sight of.

—The Law Court commenced in Augusta Tuesday. Appleton, Chief Justice, Cutting, Kent, Dickerson and Barrows were present, and Judge Tapley is expected. The middle district embraces the counties of Somerset, Knox, Lincoln, Sagadahoc and Kennebec, and cases brought up from the several counties are heard in the order named. The Somerset docket was entered upon immediately on the opening of the Court, and arguments heard in six or seven cases, says the Journal.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

—The Trucking business is good.

—A fresh, breezy day was Thursday.

—Bangor dogs are champion howlers.

—Fans were not in great request, yesterday.

—New awnings continue to make their appearance.

—The streets were brilliant, yesterday, with the new suits of the ladies.

—Strickland's block is receiving a coat of paint of a greenish clay color.

—An unusually large number of loafers on the corners and bridges, yesterday.

—The "fuzzy" caterpillar has made his appearance.

—See new time table of Portland & Kennebec R. R., in another column.

—"Horse talk" grows more earnest, and the trotters may be seen out for an airing, daily.

—Darling & Buck's store, on the corner of Exchange and State streets, is being put on a more sure foundation.

—The hotel registers present a goodly array of guests, among whom the omnipresent "drummers" are in the majority.

—Pickering and West Market Squares were crowded yesterday morning by country teams, loaded with produce and hay.

—Over 100 lbs. of fresh salmon were sent from this city by the Eastern Express on the Cambridge, yesterday. One box was directed to parties in Minnesota.

—The mud in our streets, dried up considerably, yesterday, under the combined influence of the sun and wind, but the country roads are said to be in a very bad condition.

—N. S. Harlow, Esq., has sold his stock of Drugs, Fancy Goods, &c., to Dr. L. E. Norris, who will continue the business at the old stand, No. 4 Smith's Block.

—A private dispatch from Island Pond, Vt., on Thursday afternoon, states that the line of the Grand Trunk Railway is all right between Portland and Montreal, notwithstanding the report that the Fenians had torn up the track.

—The excitement of the day culminates at the wharves, on the arrival and departure of the steamers, and a large crowd always gathers on these occasions, only equalled by that at the Post Office, on the arrival of the Western mail.

—A young man evidently a stranger to this locality, went into a store on Exchange Street, yesterday afternoon, and inquired where he could find "some cider, or some molasses and water, to drink." He had evidently given up the search for something stronger.

BUSINESS CHANGE. The firm of T. & T. H. Cushing & Co., of Repentigny, P. Q., has been dissolved. Hon. T. Cushing, of Winterport, retires. The business will be continued by Hon. T. H. Cushing and C. B. Cushing, Esq., under the name of Cushing Bros.

—Mr. H. L. Lane, Confectioner, whose stock and store on Kenduskeag bridge were destroyed by the fire of March 17th, has refitted and refurnished, and now has one of the neatest shops in town, with a full stock of confectionery of the most tempting sort. Mr. Lane manufactures his goods, and can guarantee their purity.

ACCIDENT. Messrs. C. B. Dow and Almond Wentworth, carpenters employed in building a dwelling house of Mr. Sidelinker on Fourth Street, were precipitated to the ground from a height of some 25 feet, by the giving way of a staging, about 5 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Dow had two ribs fractured, and was badly bruised, and Mr. Wentworth was injured internally, but to what extent is not yet known.

—The hopes of some unfortunate gourmand, who had laid in a stock of pastry to beguile his trip to Boston, were frustrated yesterday morning, at the Cambridge's wharf by the sudden dropping out of the bottom of the box in which the edibles were stowed, and the pies were minced with a rapidity unheard of in the annals of the culinary art.

THE SHERMAN STEEL WORKS. The Sherman Steel Works in Bucksport have been in operation for nearly a month, experimenting upon Sherman's new method of making steel, in which, we learn they are meeting with great success. As the public are not admitted, we are at present unable to give the full details. The works are fitted up in a very complete manner, at a great cost, and there is every prospect that the investment will prove a paying one.

—We learn incidentally that the British Government has at length reported favorably on Mr. Sherman's Process, giving it the preference over all others. Mr. Sherman has now the official endorsement of both the American and English Governments. Copies of both reports, with several endorsements of private steel manufacturers, can be seen, we learn, at the office of Dr. H. E. Tefft in this city. Governments move slowly, but the weight of their authority, especially when endorsing the work of a foreigner over their own methods, carries whole empires and kingdoms with it.

—Mr. E. Quimby, well known to our citizens and the travelling public as the former gentlemanly and efficient clerk of the Franklin House, having leased the new Hotel at Foxcroft, the "Foxcroft Exchange," is prepared to prove that he can "keep a Hotel" in good style. We have no doubt that every guest, after a sojourn with him, will cheerfully testify to that fact.

MEMORIAL SERVICES. We are requested [illegible] that Post No. 12, G. A. R., have engaged all the flower-[illegible] house in this city can spare, for the decoration of the Soldiers' Monument. All persons willing to contribute flowers, and who would do me so slight a tribute to the memory of our fallen heroes, are therefore requested to arrange their offerings in small hand boquets.

AMONG THE FENIANS. We are indebted to Mr. P. M. Bingham, formerly of the Bangor House, but now Clerk of the Welden House at St. Albans, Vt., for late local papers, detailing the "situation" at that place.—Mr. Bingham, in a private note, says:

"Men are constantly arriving, and the country back of us is full of them; they can be distinctly seen from the Welden House on the hill and about the openings in the woods. Gen. —— tells me that this time, the Fenians mean more than a raise, and the amount of property they have carried through here, the promptness of their movements and the shrewdness and secrecy they manifest, certainly indicate the truth of the remark."

ORGANIZATION. The new military company at Bucksport, the "Hancock County Guards," organized Tuesday evening by electing officers as follows:—Captain, V. P. Wardwell; 1st Lieutenant, Silas B. Warren; 2d Lieutenant, C. J. Cobb; Orderly Sergeant, M. F. Arey.

—The Maine Medical Association holds its annual meeting at the Court House in this city on the 28th, 29th, and 30th of next month. We are informed that the medical fraternity of this city will invite the members of the Association to one of mine host Shaw's best dinners, sometime during the session.

DR. TEFFT IN ENGLAND. While Mr. Sherman is at work with his great discovery of making steel, and introducing it into the leading steel works in England, Dr. Tefft occupies his spare time in travelling about the Kingdom, seeing the places of great historic interest, attending conventions of the two great English parties, and in lecturing and preaching among the different denominations. He has had an invitation to join the Weslyan Conference, and another to become the pastor over a Congregational Church in London, both of which, we learn, he has declined.—

The following slip, cut from a London journal, and sent us by mail, shows how our fellow-citizen is received in Europe:

MAIDSTONE. Our chapel, which has undergone considerable repairs, was re-opened for divine worship on Sunday week, when the Rev. Dr. Tefft, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, United States, preached two admirable sermons, and collections were made amounting to £18 1s. towards defraying the expenses incurred. In the prayer-meeting which followed the evening sermon several persons found peace with God, and some others at a special prayer-meeting held the following evening. On Tuesday evening Dr. Tefft gave an address in the chapel on Methodism in America to the largest audience we have ever had on a week-day evening, and the interest was unabated for upwards of an hour and a half. This was Dr. Tefft's second visit to Maidstone, and the impression he has made upon our people has been of the most beneficial and delightful character. His sermons are of the most impressive nature, and it is a great treat to listen to his clear, and powerful expositions of divine truth. He is spending some months in this country.

—We learn from the American, that the late Teachers' Convention at Ellsworth was largely attended and very successful.

—The Ellsworth American says that Messrs. Hall Brothers, on their farm in Aurora, raised one hundred and forty tons of hay last year, and the year [illegible] still larger crop.

—The Portland Packet Frank Pierce was just thirteen hours making a trip from Ellsworth to Portland, says the American.

—The Ellsworth American says the smartest, best dressed, best educated, and altogether the best looking half of the convention of teachers, which met in that town last week, was the female half.

—Hancock Conference will hold its next annual meeting in Bucksport, on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 14th and 15th.

—We learn from the Ellsworth American that Mr. Job Snow of Sedgwick, while at work at the granite quarry at Buck's Harbor in Brooksville, one day this week was seriously injured by being jammed between some stones, that he died [illegible] hours.

—The catch of alewives in the stream at Walker's mill, Brooksville, has been large this season. The Ellsworth American says that probably over one hundred barrels have been taken.

—W. P. White of Orland, writes the Ellsworth American that one day last week his three boys scraped up from the water at his mill on the head of Branch Pond, three large pailsfull of mosquitoes.

—Rev. Mr. Long has resigned his place as Pastor of the Baptist Church at Milltown, and preached his farewell sermon the [illegible] Sunday. He is to remove to Springfield and engage in the Home Missionary work, says the Calais Advertiser.

—The Messrs. Shaw Brothers have a new steamer ready for a launch on Chepetnick Lake. It is built to transport bark, hides, leather, &c., to and from their extensive tanneries at Vanceboro and Forest City, we learn from the Calais Advertiser.

—A Portland dispatch states that the Fenian arms "turned back" Wednesday to the Eastern Express were delivered to the original shippers, and have vanished.

—A peddler's cart was broken open at Monson on the night of Saturday last, and a quantity of dry goods and other articles stolen therefrom. The thief was tracked to Greenville and up [illegible] and the goods found [illegible] [illegible]

Large invoices of fresh and very elegant flavored New Teas, imported by the most direct route, and selected by an American agent of the highest integrity and undoubted skill, sent out to China expressly to guard against, and if possible protect the American consumers of this delicious plant from the persistent and consummate frauds practiced by the Chinamen, in curing and packing Teas for the American Market. And, most wonderfully has he succeeded in preventing and exposing John Chinaman's rascality, as one trial of our Teas will well at half prices lower than can be found elsewhere in New England.

ALSO,

PURE COFFEES,

of the choicest grades, imported expressly for the "Mutual Store Co." from "Mocha," "Java," "Ceylon," "Rio," and "Porto Cabello," and can be sold for one profit only, which brings our Coffee lower in price than can be found at any other Store in the Country.

Our Roasted Coffee

is all prepared by an American House of long standing, and whose reputation for honesty and determined integrity, is above all reproach, or suspicion, and are not allowed to pass through the hands of the Chinamen, where they would be sure to receive the villainous adulteration. Sure to suit. Try them.

LOAN of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

THE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD

Is completed and running from RICHMOND, to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Va., 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio River, 200 miles further, making in all 427 miles.

In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the Wonderful Coal Deposits of the Kanawha Region in West Virginia, and thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the Iron Ores of Virginia and Ohio, and the Western, South Western and Eastern markets.

When completed it will connect the superior harbor facilities of the Chesapeake Bay with the navigation on the Ohio River, and thus with the entire system of Railroad and Water transportation of the great West and South-West. It will make a short, easy, cheap and favorable route from the West to the sea, and will command a large share of the enormous freight seeking transportation to the coast.

It will thus become one of most important, and profitable East and West Trunk Lines of Railroad in the country, and command a trade of immense value.

The completed portion of the Road is doing a profitable and Increasing Business, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line—($15,000,000.)

The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a First Mortgage upon the entire Line, property and equipments, worth when completed at least $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative, and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of

Had'st thou without this pomp in earth been laid;
And all the gold for thee so freely spent,
To "God's poor" given! I had been more content,—
If, in my own dear land, some empty hands
Had been well-filled! Some freezing household bands
Had gathered round a hearth, whose cheerful fire
My memory helped to light! No funeral pyre
Were half so grand as the poor mother's blessing,
While, warmed and fed, she smiled, her babes caressing.
Prouder than funeral car, or black draped Hall,
My monument had been, if, from y all
A solemn protest had been uttered loud,
Against the waste of gold, this jostling crowd!
And laying this body quietly in the ground,
Ye had let its life-work fittingly be crowned,
By absence of all pomp and idle show,
The bitter mockery of a needless woe!
And with the wealth you've squandered, for the dead,
The homeless, and the hungry, housed and fed!

A MYSTERIOUS VISIT.

The following report, which appears, in the Buffalo Express, is not official matter, strictly speaking, although it comes to us with a letter from an assistant assessor of internal revenue who writes that it is the unanimous opinion of the assistant assessors of the Thirtieth District that it ought to be published in the Bureau. It is suggestive, he adds, of some fun, and any amount of truth in reference to the assessment of incomes, and we think it would be interesting to revenue officers generally.

The first notice that was taken of me when I "settled down," recently, was by a gentleman who said he was an assessor, and connected with the U. S. Internal Revenue Department. I said that I had never heard of his branch of business before, but I was very glad to see him, all the same—would he sit down? He sat down. I did not know anything particular to say, and yet I felt that people who have arrived at the dignity of keeping house must be conversational, must be easy and sociable in company. So in default of anything else to say, I asked him if he was opening his shop in our neighborhood.

He said he was. [I did not wish to appear ignorant, but I had hoped he would mention what he had for sale.]

I ventured to ask him "how was trade?" and he said "So-so."

I then said we would drop in, and if we liked his shop as well as any other, we would give him our custom.

He said he thought we would like his establishment well enough to confine ourselves to it—said he never saw anybody who would go off and hunt up another man in his line, after trading with him once. That sounded pretty complacent, but barring that natural expression of villany which we all have, the man looked honest enough.

I do not know how it came about, exactly, but gradually we appeared to melt down, and run together, conversationally speaking, and then everything went along as comfortably as clockwork.

We talked, and talked, and talked—at least I did. And we laughed, and laughed, and laughed—at least he did. But all the time I had my presence of mind about me—I had my native shrewdness, turned on, "full head," as the engineers say. I was determined to find out all about his business, in spite of his obscure answers—and I was determined I would have it out of him without his suspecting what I was at. I meant to trap him with a deep, deep ruse. I would tell him all about my own business, and he would naturally so warm to me during this seductive burst of confidence, that he would forget himself and tell me all about his affairs before he suspected what I was about. I thought to myself, My son, you little know what an old fox you are dealing with. I said: "Now you would never guess what I made lecturing, this winter and last spring?"

"No—don't believe I could, to save me. Let me see—let me see. About two thousand dollars maybe? But no—no! sir, I know you couldn't have made that much. Say seventeen hundred, maybe?"

"Ha—ha! I knew you couldn't. My lecturing receipts for last spring and this winter were fourteen thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars—what do you think of that?"

"Why, it is amazing—perfectly amazing. I will make a note of it. And you say even this wasn't all?"

"All? Why, bless you, there was my income from the Buffalo Express for four months—about—about eight thousand dollars, for instance?"

"Say! Why, I should say. I should like to see myself rolling in just such another ocean of affluence. Eight thousand! I'll make a note of it! Why, man!—and on top of all this I am to understand that you had still more income?"

"Ha-ha-ha! Why, you're only in the suburbs of it, so to speak. There's my book, 'The Innocents Abroad'—price $3.50 to $5, according to the binding. Listen to me. Look me in the eye. During the last four months and a half, saying nothing of sales before that, but just simply during the four months and a half ending March 15th, 1870, we've sold ninety-five thousand copies of that book! Ninety-five thousand! Think of it. Average four dollars a copy, say. It's nearly four hundred thousand dollars, my son. I get half."

"The suffering Moses! I'll set that down. Fourteen-seven-fifty—eight—two—hundred. Total, say—well, upon my word, the grand total is about two hundred and thirteen or fourteen thousand dollars! Is that possible?"

"Possible! If there's any mistake it's the other way. Two hundred and fourteen thousand, cash, is my income for this year if I know how to cipher."

Then the gentleman got up to go. It came over me most uncomfortably that maybe I had made my revelations for nothing, besides being flattered into stretching them considerably by the stranger's astonished exclamations. But no; at the last moment, the gentleman handed me a large envelope and said it contained his advertisement; and that I would find out all about his business in it; and that he would be happy to have my custom—would in fact be proud to have the custom of a man of such prodigious income; and that he used to think there were several wealthy men in Buffalo, but when they came to trade with him he discovered that they had barely enough to live on; and that in truth it had been such a weary, weary age since he had seen a rich man face to face, and talked with him, and touched him with his hands, that he could hardly refrain from embracing me—in fact, would esteem it a great favor if I would let him embrace me.

This so pleased me that I did not try to resist, but allowed this simple-hearted stranger to throw his arms about me and weep a few tranquilizing tears down the back of my neck. As soon as he was gone, I opened his advertisement.

I studied it attentively for four minutes. I then called up the cook, and said:

"Hold me while I faint. Let Maria turn the batter-cakes."

By and by, when I came to, I sent down to the rum mill on the corner and hired an artist by the week to sit up nights and curse that stranger, and give me a lift occasionally in the day time when I came to a hard place.

Ah, what a miscreant he was! His "advertisement" was nothing in the world but a wicked tax return—a string of impertinent questions about my private affairs, occupying the best part of four fools-cap pages of fine print—questions I may remark, gotten up with such marvelous ingenuity that the oldest man in the world couldn't understand what the most of them were driving at—questions, too, that were calculated to make a man report about four times his actual income to keep from swearing to a lie. I looked for a loophole, but there did not appear to be any. Inquiry No. 1 covered my case, as generously and as amply as an umbrella could cover an ant-hill.

"What were your profits, in 1869, from any trade, business, or vocation, wherever carried on?"

And that inquiry was backed up by thirteen others of an equally searching nature, the most modest of which required information as to whether I had committed any burglary or highway robbery, or by any arson or other secret source of emolument, had acquired property which was not enumerated in my statement of income as set opposite to inquiry No. 1.

It was plain that that stranger had enabled me to make an ass of myself. It was very, very plain, and I went out and hired another artist. By working on my vanity, the stranger had seduced me into declaring an income of $214,000. By law, $1,000 of this was exempt from income tax—the only relief I could see, and it was only a drop in the ocean. At the legal five per cent., I must pay over to the Government the appalling sum of ten thousand and other things. He got astonishing "deductions" out of each and every one of these matters—each and every one of them. And when he was done he handed me the paper, and I saw at a glance that during the year 1869 my income, in the way of profits, had been one thousand two hundred and fifty dollars and forty cents.

"Now," said he, "the thousand dollars is exempt by law. What you want to do is to go and swear this document in and pay tax on the two hundred and fifty dollars."

[While he was making this speech his little boy Willie lifted a two-dollar greenback out of his vest pocket and vanished with it, and I would bet anything that if my stranger were to call on that little boy to-morrow he would make a false return of his income.]

"Well," said I, "do you always work up the 'deductions' after this fashion in your own case, sir?"

"Well, I should say so! If it weren't for those eleven saving clauses under the head of 'deductions,' I should be beggared every year to support this hateful and wicked, this extortionate and tyrannical Government."

This gentleman stands away up among the very best of the solid men of Buffalo—the men of moral weight, of commercial integrity, of unimpeachable social spotlessness—and I bowed to his example. I went down to the revenue office, and under the accusing eye of my old visitor, I stood up and swore to lie after lie, fraud after fraud, villany after villany, till my immortal soul was coated inch and inches thick with perjury, and my self-respect was gone forever and ever.

But what of it? It is nothing more than thousands of the highest, and richest, and proudest, and most respected, honored and courted men in America do every year. And so I don't care. I am not ashamed. I shall simply, for the present, talk little and wear fire-proof gloves, lest I fall into certain habits irrevocably.

A COSTLY PIN.—Frenchmen of the old school did at times tremendously polite things, such as breaking their necks to pick up a lady's fan, or running through the body of any one who should dare to say that her foot was large or her nose red. In our day Frenchmen are not quite such fools, yet they sometimes do exceedingly fine things in the polite line. This story, for example, is related of a Count. One night a lady of his acquaintance had a lace dress of considerable value torn by a man trampling on it. After an exclamation of impatience, she turned to the Count, and said: "Have you a pin?" "Madame," said he, "I don't carry a pincushion, but here is one," and he drew from his breast a valuable diamond. "Sir," said the lady, nettled probably by his retort about the pincushion, "I cannot accept a diamond from you." "Well, then," returned he, "here is a pin without a diamond." And breaking off the jewel he threw it out of the window, and presented the single pin.

Dr. Pattee's Spring Bitters,

The only Blood Purifier and Liver Invigorator now in use.

Never fails to cure Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Headache, Dizziness, Biliousness, Eruptions on the Skin, Humors of the Blood, and all complaints caused by Impure Blood, Obstructed Circulation, or a Deranged and Diseased Condition of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels.

If you are Sick, try these Bitters. The very first dose will do you good.

[Read the following, which Mrs. B. [illegible] Great Falls, wrote us July 10, 1869:]

I desire to give my testimony as to what your Bitters have done for me. For ten years I was not able to do my own work, owing to a disease of the liver. My liver was much swollen, and twice the size it should be. I tried the best physicians but could get no relief, some pronouncing me incurable. A friend recommended your Bitters, and I immediately procured a bottle, which helped me right away. I have taken four bottles, and my liver is reduced to the natural size and my health is completely restored. I think it is the best medicine now in use for the complaints. I have recommended it to my friends, and they are using it and feeling greatly improved by it.

Every bottle warranted to give satisfaction, or money refunded.

CURE OF GRAVEL OF FIVE YEARS STANDING—STONE PASSED AND TO BE SEEN.

SAVANNAH, Tenn., May 14, 1869.

Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD,

DEAR SIR—We introduced your "Fluid Extract Buchu" in this country about eight months ago, and are happy to state that it is meeting with universal favor. We wish to inform you of one instance (among many) where your "Buchu" has worked wonders. A man in our country named J. B. Estell, has been suffering about five years with gravel. About six weeks ago he bought one bottle of your "Buchu," and before he was through with one bottle he passed a gravel, that weighs EIGHT GRAINS, which we now have on exhibition in our drug store. He will never be without the "Buchu" in his house again. Your preparations are gaining favor every day.

Very respectfully yours, &c.,

CURE OF KIDNEY AND BLADDER AFFECTION OF A PATIENT SEVENTY-EIGHT YEARS OF AGE.

GIRARD, Pa., March 13, 1869.

EDITOR CHAMPION:—I desire to contribute a tribute to the merits of Helmbold's Buchu, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, I say that after consulting many eminent physicians and trying nearly all the medicines advertised, in the vain hope of finding relief from a general kidney and bladder disease, from which I have suffered excessively for many years, I finally was suggested to use Helmbold's Buchu, which I commenced using with little faith, and in a short time felt a large relief for about a month. At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I could see a very slight relief which encouraged me to persevere in its use, and now at the expiration of four months, though I am in infirm old age, nearly 79 years of age, and consequently no diligent cannot expect to favorably affect me in so short time, I would have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly record the fact, as an acknowledgment to him and a valuable aid to the public. Yours respectfully,

D. M. LARIN.

PATENT SOLICITING

I CAN offer to the Public better facilities for procuring LETTERS PATENT than can be obtained anywhere else in New England. Inventors making their applications through me can have their drawings and specifications, and be sure that their cases are fully and properly represented, and can at all times know the situation of their applications as they progress from step to step in the Patent office.

Parties who have intrusted their inventions to irresponsible or inefficient agents are almost daily applying to me for advice as to how they can regain the control of their cases. There should be no trouble with the most difficult Patent Applications if intrusted to reliable solicitors.

SOLDIERS OF 1861.

$100 Bounty.

The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that the soldiers who enlisted under the first call of the President, prior to July 22d, 1861, and who were honorably discharged upon a Surgeon's certificate of disability, are entitled to a bounty of $100.

This bounty has heretofore been refused to soldiers who served less than two years, unless discharged on account of wounds. Under this decision it will be paid to those discharged by reason of disease.

We are now prepared to procure this bounty, and will collect it for those entitled, promptly, and at the lowest rates.

Applications will be sent by mail upon request to those who cannot call at our office. Those for whom we have not previously done business will please state what our charges to us, and we will send forms by return mail.
